ARBORVITAE

Pyramidal — An evergreen of rich green color and slender erect form. Most popular upright evergreen grown. Trims well.

Globe — This dwarf type grows to about 3 feet in diameter. Retains its shape without training. Color is a light green, shape is globular, very beautiful.

Siberian — A slow-growing, very hardy arborvitae with thick heavy foliage. Its size is easily controlled. Good in foundation plantings; likes moist conditions.

JUNIPERS

Savin — Low compact branching which takes a vase-like form. Grows to about 3-4 feet in diameter. One of the best foundation evergreens for all purposes, hardy.

Pfitzer — One of the better evergreens for foundation plantings. Tolerates partial shade. Has a slight bluish cast.

Hetzi — Habit of growth same as Pfitzer. Color is a blue-green. Very pretty, 3 to 4 feet in diameter.

Andorra — Very low and spreading; silvery-green in summer, pink in winter for contrast.

Scopulorum — One of the upright "Silver Cedars," has very nice coloring, used as pyramidal in plantings.

SPRUCE

Colorado Blue — "King of the Evergreens." Its shapeliness and distinctive blue color make it an eye-appealing evergreen of lasting beauty. Trees will reach height of 35 to 40 feet.

Colorado Green — From the same seed as the Blue Spruce, but not attaining the same blue hue. Just as distinctive in growth habit but much more reasonably priced. Use in outyard plantings.

Black Hills — Very symmetrical, compact bushy spruce. One of the finest and a favorite for lawn specimen planting. Give it plenty of room. Reasonably priced. A must in any yard.

PINE

Mugho — Here is a low-growing dwarf pine. It is compact and round in shape. The size can be controlled by trimming. It is hardy and will tolerate some shade. Foliage is dark green.

Norway — Norway pine is generally accepted as the best large pine for use in landscape plantings. It can reach a height of 60 feet but is beautiful in appearance at any age and any height.

FERNDALE ALL-AMERICA ROSES

It's Easy to Grow our Potted Ever-Blooming Roses

We offer 36 of the Best Hybrid Tea, Sub-Zero, Rugosa, Floribunda, Climbing Roses in America

Rose Culture Tips

1. Plant roses in warm locations where they will receive plenty of sun.
2. Plant potted roses about 1-inch deeper than they are in pot.
3. Each spring, and at planting time, roses should be pruned back to two or three stems with 4-5 buds on each stem (4 to 6-inches long).
4. Roses like black rich soil — with well-rotted manure added, plus high amounts of fertilizers added once in spring and again in June. None later.
5. Cultivate around roses every week to 10 days during growing season.
6. Spray roses periodically (once each 10 days) during the growing season with a recommended fungicide and insecticide. IMPORTANT.
7. Cover both bush and climbing roses with first a 3-inch layer of leaves or other organic mulch, then mound up to 10-inches or more on the plant with loose soil.

About Our Roses

FERNDALE ROSES have been selected by us from the best propagators' gardens in the U.S.A.

- Our roses will grow and live in our rugged climate.
- They will bloom the first year — we guarantee.
- We handle but one grade — the best.
- You take no chances growing our potted roses.
- Our roses are pruned, sprayed and are growing when you buy them.
- Potted roses take no set-back when planted out.
- Add 25c to cover potting charge.
- Each rose has been rated on performance by number by American Rose Growers Association. Highest numbers best.
